to spend huge sums of tax dollars through A-bills should be kept within due bounds, if this trend is allowed to proceed without reasonable curtailment the legislature is in effect by passing the customary and more thoughtful procedure of careful study and reveal your appropriations committee of expenditures. Well now what's that his business. We set up our own rules, we know what we are doing, at least we take the responsibility for it, we don't need any advise from any body except the 49 members that make a determination for what we do in the area of the recommendation of spending money. So I think that people ought to stay within their own area of responsibility, if we want any recommendations from the executive or anyone else as to how to come about this body, we'll ask them for that information or recommendation. Now this may sound like I'm not a friend of the Governor, but I am, but first and all I'm a Senator, and as that I expect to protect the prerogative that exists only to this body. Now these bills as I've said on all, it goes back into the area in which the first time I invented a bill in order to make the penalty for the first use of marijuana seven days in confinement. That's where the thing started in the beginning, the Judiciary Committee has spent days and weeks and hours in the study of this problem and the budget committee hasn't spent five minutes. Now let's look at the staff of the Governor of the state of Nebraska, only in the field of the expertise in the field of drugs. Who are they? What do they know about the effect of drugs? Name me one. Certainly Mr. Krueger doesn't know much about anything, and the first thing he ought to get him ready, get rid of him and that's no business of ours, we shouldn't make a recommendation, that ought to be self evident.

PRESIDENT: Senator Carpenter confine yourself to the merits of LB 13.

SENATOR CARPENTER: Well I am confining myself on the merits of LB 13 in my judgement, and I don't propose to have the Chair curtail my expansion on the things I think are important to a bill. So I say I'm in favor of overriding the Governor of the state of Nebraska. This is our responsibility, we started these things, we ought to finish them. This is a horrible problem, now what happened, the day I brought to the Judiciary Committee a resolution to expand and bequeath a study of the whole problem, all hell broke loose in Omaha. The police got active, they spent a lot of people and they made a lot of arrests, now the mayor asks for seventy more men. This legislature ought to carry on the program and attempt to rehabilitate and save to the extent that we can the youth of this state, and what are we asking for, about two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, we are talking about peanuts, and people are screaming like they are paying it themselves and they are not, so I stand ready and willing to override the Governor in this particular respect.

PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes Senator Nore.

SENATOR NORE: Mr. President, and fellow members I certainly agree with Senator Carpenter, I support the overriding of the Governor's veto, but I would like to congratulate the Governor for vetoing LB 453, which I didn't, and I received a real nice note from him, but I can't go along on not overriding this veto. Now let's get this thing from a practical standpoint. We have children, grandchildren, we have a special worry, when they leave to attend school or work away from home. They don't think so, just talk to some of my constituents who have children away from home. It is a terrible problem, drug addiction, this problem is. It's right at home, it's right here, now normally I agree with Senator Whitney, that probably this bill should have gone through the budget committee, but in the position that it is, I think it is in a good position, and let's leave it where it is. Now we must remember that when your child or grandchild
